Partners of Marine Services Group to divide their activities

Partners of Marine Services Group decided to split the business. Alexey Bachurin, Egor Kanunnikov, Ivan Nezadorov and Konstantin Rogach established a new group of companies - Maritime Risk Management and will continue servicing their clients under new brand.

Marine Services Group will continue to operate in their usual markets under the existing brand.

Marine Services Group and Maritime Risk Management will continue their co-operation but will have an independent ownership structure.

“We would assure you that this transformation will not cause any changes in service we provide to clients, brokers and underwriters. We have undergone all the necessary preparations and approvals from regulatory authorities and banks to ensure smooth running of the company and achieving new goals”, say partners of Maritime Risk Management.

“We thank our colleagues for being part of our Group all these years and wish them good luck in their new set up. I am sure we will maintain our cooperation with Maritime Risk Management during years to come. At the same time Marine Services Group will continue to provide our next-to-none quality service to our existing and new customers”, says Group CEO of Marine Services Group, Aleksandrs Abuzjarovs.
